May 7, 2012

Mississippi Poultry Association
110 Airport Road S, Suite C
Pearl, Mississippi 39208-6698

Dear Friends,

It is my privilege to write today, congratulating the Mississippi Poultry Association on 75 years and going strong. Since 1937, your industry has seen both productive and tough times, but through perseverance, poultry has remained Mississippi’s largest agricultural commodity.

The Mississippi poultry industry has brought positive recognition to our state both nationally and internationally, most recently through Mississippi’s ranking as fifth in the nation for poultry production. Remaining actively engaged with local communities, the Mississippi poultry industry has done great work to improve economic development and to combat hunger in our state. As important, the Mississippi poultry industry provides job stability for thousands of Mississippi families.

In my role in the House of Representatives, I look forward to continuing to work with the Mississippi Poultry Association family, ensuring that the poultry industry in Mississippi continues to grow and remains strong for many years to come. Again, congratulations on this important milestone.

Sincerely,

Alan Nunnelee
Member of Congress